EVA A "ROBIN HOOD"

This is the third of four articles telling the story of the short but remarkable life of Eva Peron, who rose from nothing to become the mass-worshipped first lady of Argentina.

Eva Duarte, the small-town small-time girl who knew where she was going, married Juan Peron, the big-town big-time man who knew the same, in October, 1945. They had such a secretive wedding that no one can testify now whether it was celebrated the 22nd or 24th of the month, whether any of their mass of rabid followers was permitted to throw rice, or whether the beautiful bride carried a bouquet.

Eva always refused to divulge the details. It was as if from the time she assumed first-ladyship of the nation, in March of '46, she wiped clean from her memory the pre-Peron days to concentrate her endless drive on the present and future.

The small details of their wedding, in any case, were unimportant. What mattered was that the

FALLS TWP ADOPTS TRAILER ORDINANCE

FALLSINGTON, Aug. 13 — A "trailer" ordinance, listing the necessary requirements which must be met by trailer parks, was passed by the Falls Township Board of Supervisors. Appointment of a Trailer Park Inspector is also called for in the ordinance which will affect the 11 trailer parks in Falls Township and the proposed ones in Levittown and Fairless Hills.

Karl E. Ottolini, chairman, and James Doheny, of the Township Zoning Board, were sponsors of the bill.

Under the ordinance each park must be composed of at least one acre of ground. Parks in operation before the effective date of the ordinance need not comply with this requirement. Roads within the parks must be 16 feet wide, this conforms to the size of roads in existent parks.

A 20-gallon garbage receptacle, which is to be emptied twice weekly, must be provided for each individual trailer. There must be one service building for each trailer park. A $10 yearly license fee, provision for minimum size driveways, and 100-watt light bulbs located 200 feet apart, are other provisions which must be met.

Spokesman for the Supervisors was Willard S. Curtin, township solicitor, Louis Rubin, of Bristol, and Walter W. Jackson, his associate, spoke for the Bucks County Trailer Park Association.

At the meeting the new Falls Township building code was also adopted. This code lists the specifications in plumbing, electrical and general building work with which contractors must comply.

FLEETWINGS GROUP TO LODGE PROTEST

Will Attend Meeting of The Bristol Twp. Commissioners at Edgely Tonight

OBJECT TO SMOKE

A delegation representing Fleetwing Estates citizens will attend the regular monthly meeting tonight, in the Edgely Community Building, of the Bristol Township commissioners, to protest offenses being committed by the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co.

"For a long time now Fleetwing residents have been consistently annoyed by the smoke, dirt and large flying pieces of burning paper from the dump behind the plant along Green Lane, by a fine ash from the smokestack and by the offensive odors coming from the plant," says a spokesman.

Over a year ago a group of people who claimed to have been most affected by the problem protested to the plant management and to the commissioners, "but nothing has been done to remedy the situation, which, if anything, is growing worse," it is said.

"Housewives claim that the smoke and dirt ruin clothes out on a wash line and that the smoke and odor have made certain children and adults sick."

The delegation will present the matter to the commissioners tonight in the hope that some solution may be found.

FALLS TWP ADOPTS
TRAILER ORDINANCE

FALLSINGTON, Aug. 13 — A "trailer" ordinance, listing the necessary requirements which must be met by trailer parks, was passed by the Falls Township Board of Supervisors. Appointment of a Trailer Park Inspector is also called for in the ordinance which will affect the 11 trailer parks in Falls Township and the proposed ones in Levittown and Fairless Hills.

Karl F. Ottolini, chairman, and James Doheny, of the Township Zoning Board, were sponsors of the bill.

Under the ordinance each park must be composed of at least one acre of ground. Parks in operation before the effective date of the ordinance need not comply with this requirement. Roads within the parks must be 16 feet wide, this conforms to the size of roads in existent parks.

A 20-gallon garbage receptacle, which is to be emptied twice weekly, must be provided for each individual trailer. There must be one service building for each trailer park.

A $10 yearly license fee, provision for minimum size driveways, and 100-watt light bulbs located 200 feet apart, are other provisions which must be met.

Spokesman for the Supervisors was Willard S. Curtin, township solicitor, Louis Rubin, of Bristol, and Walter W. Jackson, his associate, spoke for the Bucks County Trailer Park Association.

At the meeting the new Falls Township building code was also adopted. This code lists the specifications in plumbing, electrical and general building work with which contractors must comply.

FLEETWINGS GROUP
TO LODGE PROTESTWill Attend Meeting of The Bristol Twp. Commissioners
at Edgely Tonight

OBJECT TO SMOKE

A delegation representing Fleetwing Estates citizens will attend the regular monthly meeting tonight, in the Edgely Community Building, of the Bristol Township commissioners, to protest offenses being committed by the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. "For a long time now Fleetwing residents have been consistently annoyed by the smoke, dirt and large flying pieces of burning paper from the dump behind the plant along Green Lane, by a fine ash from the smokstack and by the offensive odors coming from the plant," says a spokesman.

Over a year ago a group of people who claimed to have been most affected by the problem protested to the plant management and to the commissioners, "but nothing has been done to remedy the situation, which, if anything, is growing worse," it is said.

"Housewives claim that the smoke and dirt ruin clothes out on a wash line and that the smoke and odor have made certain children and adults sick."

The delegation will present the matter to the commissioners tonight in the hope that some solution may be found.

THE HARD WAY

Perhaps it can be said that all military attaches on duty with U. S. embassies, and the attaches of foreign nations stationed here, are spies. A military attache is supposed to note trends, changes and other odd bits of information which he can piece together regarding the host nation's military capacities.

A military attache isn't supposed to engage in outright espionage. But this is being done in varying degrees all the time.

Russia, which probably uses its diplomatic eyes and ears for espionage more than any other nation, and is in splendid position to do so in the United States because of the dozens of Russians sent to the United Nations, is pathologically suspicious of others.

So, when a Russian agent managed to swipe the diary of Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow at Frankfurt last summer and noted that specific Russian geographical points were termed by General Grow "excellent targets for air bombardment," then the charge of "spy" was hurled by the reds.

This was a misuse of official secret information, a group of officers sitting in court martial on General Grow have decided. The general, former military attache at Moscow, should have committed his thoughts to the embassy safe. The State Department seems greatly concerned that the net effect of the purloined diary was to hand propaganda material to the Russians.

General Grow has been convicted and sentenced to a reprimand and suspension from command for six months. The Army's action will have the effect of making all American military attaches pull up their socks and become more wary of the wily Russian. The military branches which furnish the attaches to represent the American people overseas must realize that the basic responsibility for poor choices for these posts is theirs.

The Army appears to have learned this the hard way.

Eva and Peron Formed An Unbeatable Team

two most romantic, influential people in Argentina had teamed up in an unbeatable combination.

Juan now had an ultra ego and Eva had—well, what did she have?

On the surface she had everything material that the dreamiest of chorus girls can pray for. Her paste pearls turned to multi-millions of dollars worth of jewels, 3½ million of which she was known to cluster about her figure in a single evening. She swapped her white collar frocks and cotton girdle skirts for Christian Dior creations which were a delight to the eye and a shock to the conservative Argentine government officials. What is more important perhaps for a sensitive girl from a small town, she traded anonymity for millions of screaming admirers, a private audience with the Pope, a kiss from Bidad, a glowing compliment from Franco and respect, whether it stemmed from fear or admiration, from everyone.

Though Eva was probably the only one who knew Eva, inside as well as out, it's generally believed that these acquisitions made up only a small chunk of "what Eva had" when she married the national hero of Argentina.

The bigger thing was an obsession in her own mind—a desire to be Robin Hood.

She wanted to snub the rich and be sainted by the poor and she set about fulfilling this ambition the easiest and probably only way it could be accomplished, by making herself so rich and powerful there was none who could out-spend or out-influence her.

Eva had started her campaign in 1944 under the cover of her idolatry for Peron. The laboring class, more than 5½-million strong in Argentina, was insultingly called "descamisados" (shirtless ones) by the upper classes. The word had become a common term in the nation's press.

Once in a welfare speech, Peron cried to these people—"Yes, you are descamisados, but I like you better without your camisas (shirts) than the oligarchs with their fancy suits!"

It was probably only a lucky, unplanned emotional outburst by Peron, but Eva leaped upon it as a theme. The descamisados became a symbol of what she would work for and she fiercely cried out through her microphone, harking them to revere their saviour Peron and beware their opposition, the oligarchs.

In a period of months, the shirtless ones in their unions and recreational groups were holding public rallies that were little more than loud devotionals to their Evita. Peron, who already had the support of most of the military because of his long army service and brilliance in military affairs, found Eva had given him a bonus, the rabid support of the masses.

After they were married, Evita never stopped courting her descamisados. She made them her personal responsibility, as another president's wife would have considered the entertaining of diplomats or the support of orphans' homes her chief duty.

"I am the humblest of the shirtless ones," she said once. "My job is to transmit to the President the wishes of the people—of my dear shirtless ones."

For her dear ones, Eva's biggest gift was the establishment of a huge "social aid foundation" to distribute food, medicine and money to the needy. The foundation became so wealthy, through contributions from trade unions and businesses, that it now owns hospitals, warehouses, retail shops, and homes for working girls, old people and indigent mothers. There's even an entire children's village built to look after 1,000 poor children a day.

Her critics insisted that she accounted for an estimated $35,000,000 that flowed annually into the foundation's coffers.

But when she was asked to explain how she kept track of the multi-millions, Eva was quick as she had been from her wedding day forward to show her invulnerability to public opinion.

"Keeping books on charity," she snapped, "is capitalistic nonsense! I just use the money for the poor. I cannot stop to count it."

"The poor," for whom she didn't count, never questioned. They became increasingly grateful and with every year, every month, every day, the hearts above their satisfied stomachs beat more wildly for Evita.

Bristol School Board To Consider Revising Teachers' Salaries

was granted for Boy Scout Field Day, Sept. 6th. And money was provided for hiring of a bus to transport playground children to Shibe Park this fall.

The school board considered the recommendation of Warren P. Snyder, superintendent of schools, requesting an upward revision of the salaries of teachers who had been hired several years ago. The salary review was requested because the salaries of some of the affected teachers are not in line with salaries offered teachers who are hired today. Final discussion and action on this issue was deferred until the next board meeting.

Contractors Weller and Weller,

Oakford, were awarded the $1536.00 contract for black-top surfacing of the area about the retaining wall in the athletic field of Bristol high school.

Resignations of the following teachers were accepted by the board: Thomas Walsh, Industrial Arts; John Federico, Industrial Arts; Edward Ryglewicz, Music Supervisor; G. Arthur Hornberger, Instrumental Music; Valentine Seidle, Biology; Allyn K. Lange, Home Economics.

Approval for teaching appointments was given Joan Marie Weiss, Natick, Pa., Vocal Music in the elementary and junior high school grades; Kenneth F. Bachman, Piedmont, W. Va., a former student of Quakertown High School and N. Y. U., who will teach Music Supervision, and Francis Gavas, Scranton, who studied at Millersville State Teachers College, as instructor of Industrial Arts.

Frances Saybold has been transferred from kindergarten teacher to a first grade teacher's position. Anthony D'Angelo will teach general science at the high school, and Nicholas Hagaly has been transferred from the teaching of general science to the teaching of biology.

Pending the appointment of an additional Industrial Arts teacher, Lester P. Michael, formerly in charge of industrial arts will again teach that subject. The driver-training program of which he has been in charge will be suspended for the next school year.

The evening classes which have been conducted by the Pennsylvania State College, will continue this year. Classes are expected to start some time late in September. Adults in the Bristol area are invited to register for the subjects of study which will be taught two hours per week up to a maximum of six hours per week.

A further action of the board was to re-state its policy that school facilities, i.e., the gym, are available to civic groups for discussion of community problems. This action was taken to show co-operation of the board in local citizens' problems, particularly in the matter of tax equalization, a community project which has put most local school boards under direct fire from taxpayers.

A fund of $250 maximum was set aside to purchase equipment and supplies for the athletic refreshment stand which is run by local mothers and fathers groups in conjunction with the school board. This amount is expected to provide the needed supplies to equip the stand to serve spectators at high school sports events and provide revenue to the sponsoring and operating groups.

The board authorized the use of the athletic field for Boy Scouts Field Day, Sept. 6th, at which time local troops will put on an exhibition of camping procedures. And approximately $40 of School Board money will be used to hire a bus to transport the champions of the Bristol Borough Playground League.

In addition the board looked over the new "Teachers Reference Handbook," a digest of teacher deportment and class procedure prepared by Senior High School Principal David L. Hertzler. A music album will be purchased for use by the elementary athletic grades.

And the board heard a report that there will be no delay in supplies necessary to complete the repairs to the high school.

Keep costs down, performance up, with a Dodge

"My Dodge trucks save a lot of money on gas!"

says H. A. ROBINSON
Contract Hauler,
Mobile, Ala.

"On a 200-mile run I save 1½ to 2 gallons of gas. I get this saving seven days a week, and on my two trucks that means I save over $300.00 a year on gas alone. That's good, because each of my trucks makes an average of 50 stops per day hauling mail."

"My first Dodge truck cost me only $54.00 of repair expense in two years. I ran my second Dodge over 103,000 miles in two years and spent only $15.50 on it for repairs."

"If I'd known what I know now about Dodge trucks, I'd have switched to them long ago and saved myself a lot of money."

THE HARD WAY

Perhaps it can be said that all military attaches on duty with U. S. embassies, and the attaches of foreign nations stationed here, are spies. A military attaché is supposed to note trends, changes and other odd bits of information which he can piece together regarding the host nation's military capacities.

A military attaché isn't supposed to engage in outright espionage. But this is being done in varying degrees all the time. Russia, which probably uses its diplomatic eyes and ears for espionage more than any other nation, and is in splendid position to do so in the United States because of the dozens of Russians sent to the United Nations, is pathologically suspicious of others.

So, when a Russian agent managed to swipe the diary of Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow at Frankfurt last summer and noted that specific Russian geographical points were termed by General Grow "excellent targets for air bombardment," then the charge of "spy" was hurled by the reds.

This was a misuse of official secret information, a group of officers sitting in court martial on General Grow have decided. The general, former military attaché at Moscow, should have committed his thoughts to the embassy safe. The State Department seems greatly concerned that the net effect of the purloined diary was to hand propaganda material to the Russians.

General Grow has been convicted and sentenced to a reprimand and suspension from command for six months. The Army's action will have the effect of making all American military attaches pull up their socks and become more wary of the wily Russian. The military branches which furnish the attaches to represent the American people overseas must realize that the basic responsibility for poor choices for these posts is theirs.

The Army appears to have learned this the hard way.

two most romantic, influential people in Argentina had teamed up in an unbeatable combination.

Juan now had an ultra ego and Eva had—well, what did she have?

On the surface she had everything material that the dreamiest of chorus girls can pray for. Her past pearls turned to multi-millions of dollars worth of jewels, 3½ million of which she was known to cluster about her figure in a single evening. She swapped her white collar frocks and cotton girdle skirts for Christian Dior creations which were a delight to the eye and a shock to the conservative Argentine government officials. What is more important perhaps for a sensitive girl from a small town, she traded anonymity for millions of screaming admirers, a private audience with the Pope, a kiss from Bidault, a glowing compliment from Franco and respect, whether it stemmed from fear or admiration, from everyone.

Though Eva was probably the only one who knew Eva, inside as well as out, it's generally believed that these acquisitions made up only a small chunk of "what Eva had" when she married the national hero of Argentina. The bigger thing was an obsession in her own mind—a desire to be Robin Hood. She wanted to snub the rich and be sainted by the poor and she set about fulfilling this ambition the easiest and probably only way it could be accomplished, by making herself so rich and powerful there was none who could out-spend or out-influence her.

Eva had started her campaign in 1944 under the cover of her idolatry for Peron. The laboring class, more than 5½-million strong in Argentina, was insultingly called "descamisados" (shirtless ones) by the upper classes. The word had become a common term in the nation's press. Once in a welfare speech, Peron cried to these people: "Yes, you are descamisados, but I like you better without your camisas (shirts) than the oligarchs with their fancy suits!"

It was probably only a lucky, unplanned emotional outburst by Peron, but Eva leaped upon it as a theme. The descamisados became a symbol of what she would work for and she fiercely cried out through her microphone, harking them to reverse their saviour Peron and beware their opposition, the oligarchs.

In a period of months, the shirtless ones in their unions and recreational groups were holding public rallies that were little more than loud devotionals to their Evita. Peron, who already had the support of his long army service and brilliance in military affairs, found Eva had given him a bonus, the rabid support of the masses.

After they were married, Evita never stopped courting her descamisados. She made them her personal responsibility, as another president's wife would have considered the entertaining of diplomats or the support of orphans' homes her chief duty.

"I am the humblest of the shirtless ones," she said once. "My job is to transmit to the President the wishes of the people—of my dear shirtless ones."

For her dear ones, Eva's biggest gift was the establishment of a huge "social aid foundation" to distribute food, medicine and money to the needy. The foundation became so wealthy, through contributions from trade unions and businesses, that it now owns hospitals, warehouses, retail shops, and homes for working girls, old people and indigent mothers. There's even an entire children's village built to look after 1,000 poor children a day.

Her critics insisted that she account for an estimated $35,000,000 that flowed annually into the foundation's coffers. But when she was asked to explain how she kept track of the multi-millions, Eva was quick as she had been from her wedding day forward to show her invulnerability to public opinion.

"Keeping books on charity," she snapped, "is capitalistic nonsense! I just use the money for the poor. I cannot stop to count it."

"The poor," for whom she didn't count, never questioned. They became increasingly grateful and with every year, every month, every day, the hearts above their satisfied stomachs beat more wildly for Evita.

Bristol School Board To Consider Revising Teachers' Salaries

was granted for Boy Scout Field Day, Sept. 6th. And money was provided for hiring of a bus to transport playground children to Shibe Park this fall.

The school board considered the recommendation of Warren P. Snyder, superintendent of schools, requesting an upward revision of the salaries of teachers who had been hired several years ago. The salary review was requested because the salaries of some of the affected teachers are not in line with salaries offered teachers who are hired today. Final discussion and action on this issue was deferred until the next board meeting.

to Shibe Park later in the baseball season.

In addition the board looked over the new "Teachers Reference Handbook," a digest of teacher department and class procedure prepared by Senior High School Principal David L. Hertzler. A music album will be purchased for use by the elementary athletic grades.

Resignations of the following teachers were accepted by the board: Thomas Walsh, Industrial Arts; John Federico, Industrial Arts; Edward Ryglewicz, Music Supervisor; G. Arthur Hornberger, Instrumental Music; Valentine Seidie, Biology; Allene K. Lange, Home Economics.

Approval for teaching appointments was given Joan Marie Weiss, Nanticoke, Pa., Vocal Music in the elementary and junior high school grades; Kenneth F. Bachman, Piedmont, W. Va., a former student of Quakertown High School and N. Y. U., who will teach Music Supervision, and Francis Gavas, Scranton, who studied at Millersville State Teachers College, as instructor of Industrial Arts.

Frances Saybold has been transferred from kindergarten teacher to a first grade teacher's position. Anthony D'Angelo will teach general science at the high school, and Nicholas Hagaly has been transferred from the teaching of general science to the teaching of biology.

Pending the appointment of an additional Industrial Arts teacher, Lester P. Michael, formerly in charge of industrial arts will again teach that subject. The driver-training program of which he has been in charge will be suspended for the next school year.

The evening classes which have been conducted by the Pennsylvania State College, will continue this year. Classes are expected to start some time late in September. Adults in the Bristol area are invited to register for the subjects of study which will be taught two hours per week up to a maximum of six hours per week.

A further action of the board was to re-state its policy that school facilities, i.e., the gym, are available to civic groups for discussion of community problems. This action was taken to show co-operation of the board in local citizens' problems, particularly in the matter of tax equalization, a community project which has put most local school boards under direct fire from taxpayers.

A fund of $250 maximum was set aside to purchase equipment and supplies for the athletic refreshment stand which is run by local mothers and fathers groups in conjunction with the school board. This amount is expected to provide the needed supplies to equip the stand to serve spectators at high school sports events and provide revenue to the sponsoring and operating groups.

The board authorized the use of the athletic field for Boy Scouts Field Day, Sept. 6th, at which time local troops will put on an exhibition of camping procedures. And approximately $40 of School Board money will be used to hire a bus to transport the champions of the Bristol Borough Playground League.

Both teams are considered very strong. Another entry this season is a Morrisville team under the captaincy of M. Hensor, and a new local team is the St. Ann's A. A. Returning from last year's Major League are Cattani's Beverages, Auto Boys, Lucas Motors of Burlington, Parkway Inn and Wetherill's Lumber.

Invitation is extended to the municipalities (the new towns of Levittown and Fairless Hills, especially), social organizations, industries, and any other groups in any section of lower Bucks county that would like to join this league. With nine teams already listed, there remains room for only three more teams. Bristol's Major Bowling League bowls every Monday at 8:30 p. m. Season opening is scheduled for September 8th. Because this is a major league, teams must average at least $50. The bowling fee per man is going to be $2 to $2.25. The winning team will get $1 per point. Nightly team and individual prizes of $5 and $10 will be awarded. There is an entrance fee of $25.

Leon Plavin, president of Bristol Major Bowling League, has called a meeting for August 19th at eight p. m. at Bristol Recreation Center, Farragut avenue.

Morrisville Votes To Award Contract

Neal Nolan, James Walsh and William Anderson voting aye. Councilmen Theodore Evans and Nicholas Misan did not vote, and Robert Warrick was not present.

Councilman Greco, who moved that the low bid be accepted, was advised by E. Dillwyn Darlington, borough solicitor, that it would be wise to have the bids checked by the consulting engineer to see that they meet all specifications before being accepted.

He advised that council take advantage of the 30-day leeway allowed in the contract before they accepted the bid.

Councilman Nolan, insisting that it was time for action, said the group should do something besides "sit and talk about water."

Disagreement on the matter was settled when the borough solicitor submitted the motion which finally was accepted and which protects the borough against the possibility of exorbitant financing charges.

The solicitor was authorized to advertise for the sale of $80,000 in bonds. Bids are to be opened at eight p. m., Sept. 9th, in the Borough Hall.

BUICK'S POWER STEERING?
It's the big NEWS of the year

THERE is a host of things that endear a ROADMASTER to anyone who loves to drive.

There's the might of its Fireball 8 Engine—most powerful ever put in a Buick.

There's the thrift of its Airpower carburetor—a four-barrel automatic that literally brings increased power right out of thin air.

There's its hushed and luxurious silence—its poised and level ride that cost a million dollars to develop—and the infinite smoothness of its Dynaflo Drive.

But the thing that has brought the most cheers for this big and obedient beauty is Buick's version of Power Steering.*

Gone is the tug of turning, parking, maneuvering in small space.

Power Steering takes over the effort of turning the front wheels—makes it a one-hand operation.

Do you have to learn to drive all over again if you have this new Buick feature?

You definitely do not. On the open road, you have that same sure sense of command that you've always had. Coming out of a curve, you can loosen your grip, and the front wheels right themselves just as they do on every Buick.

But you'll notice this: When you suddenly hit loose dirt or sand—or a stretch of rough road—Power Steering smoothly goes into action—helps take up the jerk—makes control of the wheel easier and driving safer.

Wouldn't you like to try out this newest wonder—on a ROADMASTER or a SUPER? You say the word, and we'll do the rest.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Optional at extra cost on Roadmaster and Super only.

AUTO BOYS MAY GET INTO PLAYOFFS BY A WIN TONIGHT

The Auto Boys team can strengthen its chance of getting into the playoffs of the Bristol Softball League by winning over Pacific Steel this evening when the teams clash on Memorial field.

The Auto Boys nine is in fifth position with 10 wins and 13 losses. Pacific is dwelling in the cellar, having won 6 and lost 14. Should Pacific lose tonight's fracas and also tomorrow's game, then all positions in the league will be clinched.

It is most likely that Johnny Ciambella will pitch for Auto Boys tonight with Johnny Frank doing the receiving. "Whizzer" White will toss them in for Pacific with Gene Fanini doing the catching.

At its meeting Monday night, the league managers decided to play a benefit game for the "Mike Murphy Fund". This game will be the annual All-Star tilt with an all-star team meeting Fifth Ward, 1951 champions. The game has been scheduled for next Wednesday evening. Tickets are now being sold by managers, league officials, and players.

The Suez Canal was opened in 1869.

MAJOR LEAGUE MAY HAVE 10 TO 12 TEAMS

Both teams are considered very strong. Another entry this season is a Morrisville team under the captaincy of M. Hensor, and a new local team is the St. Ann's A. A. so the youths fled down the bank of the nearby Poquessing and swam the waters to the opposite shore. Schramm followed in pursuit of the suspects.

At a gasoline station on the other side of the Creek Schramm told the attendant on duty to call Chief Rentz. Rentz called Phila. police by radio, then joined the pursuit.

Twelve policemen in the four cars dispatched from the State road and Longshore street station joined Bensalem police in the search of upper Torresdale. But the trail of the suspects was lost in the swampland bordering the Carson estate along the Delaware.

It has been determined that the car, a 1950 model Buick, was stolen about four p. m. yesterday afternoon from where it was parked at 21st and Market streets, Phila. Owner of the vehicle is listed as Claude Woodgate, of Market near 40th, Phila.

all of Souderton; Annie F. High and Ella F. Leatherman, Perkaskie; Sallie M. Landis, Coppersburg; Isaac Geissinger, Los Angeles, Cal. are the heirs.

The widow, Beulah Hartman, Perkaskie, will inherit the $2,000 personal estate of her husband, Russell Hartman, who died June 7, and wrote his will Feb. 20, 1945. The widow was also named the executrix.

James Brown, Lower Southampton township, who left a $29,920 personal and $18,600 real estate holdings, bequeathed James and Thomas Naysmith each $300 and John R. Naysmith, the residue.

The testator, who died June 18, left real estate valued at $18,000 on the Bustleton pike, near Feasterville, and $600 in real estate at Treves. The will was dated Aug. 16, 1941, and John R. Naysmith and James Naysmith, Pennell, were named the executors.

Two sons, William and Charles, and a daughter, Edith Caul, will inherit the $11,000 estate of Annie E. Kieser, Northampton township. The will was dated Sept. 10, 1948, and the testatrix died June 1. The daughter, Edith Caul, Churchville, was named executrix.

so the youths fled down the bank of the nearby Poquessing and swam the waters to the opposite shore. Schramm followed in pursuit of the suspects.

At a gasoline station on the other side of the Creek Schramm told the attendant on duty to call Chief Rentz. Rentz called Phila. police by radio, then joined the pursuit.

Twelve policemen in the four cars dispatched from the State road and Longshore street station joined Bensalem police in the search of upper Torresdale. But the trail of the suspects was lost in the swampland bordering the Carson estate along the Delaware.

It has been determined that the car, a 1950 model Buick, was stolen about four p. m. yesterday afternoon from where it was parked at 21st and Market streets, Phila. Owner of the vehicle is listed as Claude Woodgate, of Market near 40th, Phila.

Garden Club Has Meeting; Two Talks Are Presented

NEWTOWN, Aug. 13—In his discussion of soil conditioners, John T. Carson, guest speaker at a meeting of Newtown Garden Club, Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Harly Horne, centered attention on krillium, which has in it an important element — polyacrylonitrile, which quickly breaks up clay soils making them friable. "Krillium-treated soil slows evaporation and yet gives better drainage," he informed.

Mr. Carson urged his audience to make thorough tests using the product on one small area — and comparing it with a like area of untreated soil. He thought fall or spring a better time to make experiments than summer.

The business session, conducted by Mrs. Russell Janney, showed 111 gifts of flowers, plants and vegetables given during the past month.

Mrs. Cora Ogelby, chairman of the annual flower show to be held Sept. 12th, announced the following committees: General: Mrs. Cora Ogelby, Mrs. S. Paul Woodman, Mrs. Ralph Homan, Mrs. Lucy Porter, Mrs. William V. Loughery, Mrs. Everett Johnson, Mrs. Seymour Peskind; Schedule: Miss Helen Pearson, Mrs. Lucy Porter, Mrs. Ralph Homan; Entries: Miss Julia Balderston, Miss Mary Heston, Miss Olive Balderston, Mrs. Russell Janney; Advisory: Mrs. Lucy Porter, Mrs. S. Paul Woodman; Publicity: Mrs. Cora Ogelby, Mrs. William Stuckert, Mrs. Reuben Kester, Mrs. William Randall; Staging: Mrs. Loughery, Mrs. Ralph Homan, Mrs. Kenneth C. Millard, Mrs. Clinton Greenlee, Mrs. Watson Cornell, Mrs. Arthur Yunker, Mrs. Lester Smith; Properties: Mrs. Janney, Mrs. Seymour Peskind, Mrs. Everett Johnson, Mrs. Wilford Smith, Mrs. John Crowther, Mrs. Joanne Mevius; Hospitality: Mrs. Peskind, Mrs. Lafayette Long, Miss Cora Willard, Mrs. William Foster, Mrs. John Allinson, Mrs. Marvin V. Keller, Mrs. Raymond Taylor, Mrs. Andrew Byles; Dried material appropriate for winter bouquets: Mrs. Stephen M. Vandegrift and Mrs. Daniel Miller.

Mrs. Horne, on the program to exhibit her herb garden, could not do so because of rain, but had several specimens inside too exhibit. She has 36 varieties of herbs. She discussed the quality and uses of some of the herbs.

Miss Julia Balderston will be hostess at the September meeting, Sept. 5th, at 2:30 p. m., when a round-table discussion on 1952 Ventures in Gardening will be participated in by the members.

NEWS OF THE LEVITTOWN COMMUNITY

COMMENCE WORK ON A POOL AT LEVITTOWN

Said to Be First of Eight "Olympic-Size" Swimming Spots

IN IST MASTER BLOCK

LEVITTOWN, Aug. 13—There's cold comfort—but really cool—for Levittowners in these dog days in the evidence that next summer things'll be different.

The evidence: "Work started today on the first of eight Olympic-size swimming pools to be built in this planned community of 16,000 homes," officials of Levitt & Sons, Inc., announce. Construction crews, working on a slam-bang schedule, started pouring the concrete foundation for the first pool.

It is expected the walls will be completed the week after Labor Day. Following that will come the installation of pumping, filtering and chlorination equipment and the building of locker facilities.

At least one pool and possibly two will be ready for use at the start of next year's swimming season, it was announced by Levitt and Sons, Inc.

Located in the heart of Levittown's first "master block," the pool site is adjacent to the planned John Fitch school, off the Bristol Pike, midway between Levittown Parkway and Haines Road. It will serve residents of the Stonybrook, Farmbrook and Greenbrook sections.

Swimming facilities in each of Levittown's master blocks are to be incorporated in large landscaped playgrounds and recreation areas, containing hardball and softball fields, Little League diamonds, handball and basketball courts, as well as swings, sliding ponds and other planned installations for little children.

Each pool will be 125-by-75 feet

and will be adjacent to a 75-by-25-foot wading pool for small children. The big pools, with a 450,000-gallon capacity, will range in depth from 3½ to 12 feet. Massive pumps will replace the water every eight hours at a rate of 550 gallons a minute.

A Series of Articles Introducing the New Residents of Levittown to The Community.

By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, Aug. 13—One Levittown man who is employed by a music firm has expectations of someday wiring his house for sound—with phonograph music "piped" to various rooms. This new-comer is J. T. Chapin, of 42 Stonybrook drive. Mrs. Chapin has among her several hobbies the study of the guitar.

Mr. Chapin is a sales engineer for J. P. Seeburg Corp., of Chicago.

He is especially interested in electronics. A former member of the U. S. Navy, he served in the European theatre during World War II.

Recent residents of Philadelphia, the Chapins had lived in the mid-east and west. Mr. Chapin's home had been in Chicago, and his wife was born in California. But while her husband was in training, Mrs. Chapin had lived in various parts of the country to be near him.

FIREMEN MEET

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Aug. 13—A meeting of Cornwells Fire Co., No. 1, was held on Thursday evening in the fire station, C. Warren Poston presiding. One new member was accepted, namely Kenneth Keifer. Elliott Deitch spoke of the new building, how necessary it is for all men to help complete it before cold weather. Everyone is asked to work on Tuesday evenings and Sundays. J. Stanley VanSant reported for the Marine Association that the next meeting will be August 14th at Torresdale; also that the unit was called in three drowning cases in July. Raymond Eisle, Andalusia, was appointed chief of the fire police, succeeding James Pettitt. Chief William Ervin gave a fire report: 1 field, 1 automobile, 1 tree. A repeat was served to 42 members, and "movies" were shown.

NEWS OF THE LEVITTOWN COMMUNITY

COMMENCE WORK ON A POOL AT LEVITTOWN

Said to Be First of Eight
"Olympic-Size" Swimming Pools

IN IST MASTER BLOCK

LEVITTOWN, Aug. 13—There's cold comfort—but really cool—for Levittowners in these dog days in the evidence that next summer things'll be different.

The evidence: "Work started today on the first of eight Olympic-size swimming pools to be built in this planned community of 16,000 homes," officials of Levitt & Sons, Inc., announce. Construction crews, working on a slam-bang schedule, started pouring the concrete foundation for the first pool.

It is expected the walls will be completed the week after Labor Day. Following that will come the installation of pumping, filtering and chlorination equipment and the building of locker facilities.

At least one pool and possibly two will be ready for use at the start of next year's swimming season, it was announced by Levitt and Sons, Inc.

Located in the heart of Levittown's first "master block," the pool site is adjacent to the planned John Fitch school, off the Bristol Pike, midway between Levittown Parkway and Haines Road. It will serve residents of the Stonybrook, Farmbrook and Greenbrook sections.

Swimming facilities in each of Levittown's master blocks are to be incorporated in large landscaped playgrounds and recreation areas, containing hardball and softball fields, Little League diamonds, handball and basketball courts, as well as swings, sliding ponds and other planned installations for little children.

Each pool will be 125-by-75 feet

and will be adjacent to a 75-by-25-foot wading pool for small children. The big pools, with a 450,000-gallon capacity, will range in depth from 3½ to 12 feet. Massive pumps will replace the water every eight hours at a rate of 550 gallons a minute.

A Series of Articles Introducing the New Residents of Levittown to The Community.

By Staff Reporter

LEVITTOWN, Aug. 13—One Levittown man who is employed by a music firm has expectations of someday wiring his house for sound—with phonograph music "piped" to various rooms. This new-comer is J. T. Chapin, of 42 Stonybrook drive. Mrs. Chapin has among her several hobbies the study of the guitar.

Mr. Chapin is a sales engineer for J. P. Seeburg Corp., of Chicago.

III. He is especially interested in electronics. A former member of the U. S. Navy, he served in the European theatre during World War II.

Recent residents of Philadelphia, the Chapins had lived in the mid-east and west. Mr. Chapin's home had been in Chicago, and his wife was born in California. But while her husband was in training, Mrs. Chapin had lived in various parts of the country to be near him.

FIREMEN MEET

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Aug. 13—A meeting of Cornwells Fire Co., No. 1, was held on Thursday evening in the fire station, C. Warren Poston presiding. One new member was accepted, namely Kenneth Keifer. Emmott Deitch spoke of the new building, how necessary it is for all men to help complete it before cold weather. Everyone is asked to work on Tuesday evenings and Sundays. J. Stanley VanSant reported for the Marine Association that the next meeting will be August 14th at Torresdale; also, that the unit was called in three drowning cases in July. Raymond Eisle, Andalusia, was appointed chief of the fire police, succeeding James Pettitt. Chief William Ervin gave a fire report: 1 field, 1 automobile, 1 tree. A repast was served to 42 members, and "movies" were shown.
